

		Adult recurrent education study model w/ Geography	Human Culture field study model W/ History of Japanese Culture	Language & Culture field study model w/ English Semantics	Doctoral program entry study model w/ Human Ontology
Careers in which graduates are expected to be active		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▶ Return to work</li> <li>▶ Advance in career</li> <li>▶ Change careers</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▶ Gov' t / company employees, etc. to promote local culture</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▶ Gov' t / company employees, etc. to work in positions requiring foreign language skills</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▶ Advance to doctoral programs</li> </ul>
Degree Awarded		Master of Humanities	Master of Humanities	Master of Humanities	Master of Humanities	Completion requirements (earned credits)
Final Examination		Achievement presentations (open to public), Master' s thesis review, Final examination (incl. oral exam)					30 or more
		Research paper	Master' s thesis	Master' s thesis	Master' s thesis	credits
6	Research Guidance To consolidate research results using deepened knowledge of each area and skills for research and practice.	★Professional Research in Human Culture 1 & 2	★Professional Research in Human Culture 1 & 2	★Professional Research in Language and Culture 1 & 2	★Professional Research in Human Culture 1 & 2	2	4
5	Career Development Courses To learn the significance of working with high expertise in the society and practical applications of the expertise.	★Seminar in Regional Systems ★Seminar in Natural Environment ★Seminar in Social Culture	◆Internship ◆Toward the Realization of an Inclusive Society ◆Introduction to Teaching  ★Seminar in History of Japanese Culture ★Seminar in Japanese History of Cultural Interchange ★Seminar in History of Asian Societies	◆Internship ◆Toward the Realization of an Inclusive Society ◆Introduction to Teaching  ★Seminar in English Semantics ★Seminar in Modern and Contemporary British Literature ★Seminar in English Language Acquisition	★Seminar in Human Ontology ★Seminar in History of Ethical Thought ★Seminar in European History and Culture Note: For advancing to doctoral programs, the focus is on acquiring highly specialized knowledge and research ability by taking courses set around the specialized area.
4	Specialized Courses (Seminar) To develop skills for research and practice by putting the specialized knowledge into practice.	◆Lecture on Regional Systems ◆Lecture on Natural Environment ◆Lecture on Social Culture	◆Lecture on History of Japanese Culture ◆Lecture on Japanese History of Cultural Interchange ◆Lecture on History of Asian Societies	◆Lecture on English Semantics ◆Lecture on Modern and Contemporary British Literature ◆Lecture on English Language Acquisition	◆Lecture on Human Ontology ◆Lecture on History of Ethical Thought ◆Lecture on European History and Culture	2	21 Up to 5 credits are allowed from the courses assigned for other majors
3	Specialized Courses (Lecture) To deepen specialized knowledge required for achievement in each area.
2	Basic Courses for the Division To acquire the basics in Law and Letters.	★Basics of Law and Letters   ★Professional Research & Writing				1	2
1	Basic Courses for the Graduate School To gain basic knowledge necessary in Humanities and Social Sciences.	●Introduction to Law and Politics   ●Introduction to Humanities   ●Introduction to Regional Industrial society   ●Field Research				1	3